SPECIAL MEETING VOTES FOR INCREASED FEES

Members and Bookmakers annual Club Fees may be increased retrospectively from 1st March, 1974, to partly meet rising wage and overall running costs.

A special meeting of members held on 24th July passed, by an overwhelming majority, the following resolutions:—

The Rule 14 be amended to read:

The entrance fee for a bookmaking member shall be $700 and the annual subscription shall be $125 and shall take effect from 1st March 1974.

OUR COVER

Club Chairman Geoff Eastment congratulates Dennis Wilson on winning Tattersall's Club swimming championship. Former Olympic champion John Devitt was second with Bryan Mortensen third. Full story pages 12-13.

— Cover photo by Club Member, Max Sernack.

That Rule 15 be amended to read: The entrance fee for an ordinary member shall be $100 and the annual subscription shall be $125.

The few hundred members present took part in a warm discussion, on several points but the general tempo of speakers supported the major points made by Chairman Geoff Eastment.

He said the predominant cause for the urgent increase of fees was the substantial rates of wage rises.

He emphasised the following increases:—

12.9.73—$3 p.w. for all employees.
1.1.74—$3.10 p.w. for all females
23.1.74—$12 p.w. for apprentices.
28.5.74—$2.50 p.w. plus 2% for all employees (National wage case).

Add to the above an additional one week's annual leave and an approach by employees to the Arbitration Commission for a further substantial wage increase in September.

There has also been an increase in bank interest (up from 7½% to 12½%). Plus rises in gas, electricity and oil — in fact in every item purchased to keep the Club running.

BRIGHTER LAYOUT

We hope our readers find the brighter format of the Magazine to their liking.

Contributions from members would be gratefully appreciated.

— The Editor

The anticipated use in cost, conservatively estimated, amounts to $250,000 a year.

The Chairman explained that the Committee had examined each department, floor by floor. For the Club to exist in continued operation as it is today, the only alternative would be to close some facilities and dispense with staff.

This aspect brought heated comments from some members who stated clearly that such remedies should be resisted.

To confirm or reject the decisions a further special meeting, as required by the Act, will be held at 2.15 p.m. on 26th August, 1974.

Bill Sheahan Farewelled

One of the most pleasant thoughts that one can indulge is that your deeds for your fellowman are appreciated and respected.

"That the good that man does lies buried with his bones" is so true and recognition of his well meaning works are too often forgotten not only in his remaining years but in the hereafter.

Not so with ex M.L.A. Bill Sheahan.

In his years as Minister for Lands, Minister for Agriculture, Minister for Transport, Attorney General, then Minister for Health, he introduced, established and developed legislation which stands the test of time.

And thus as he concludes his active parliamentary career the adulation of friends and opponents were being showered upon him.

At the ex-Servicemen's Club, Cootamundra, over 200 sat down to dinner and presented Bill with a wristlet watch.

Tumut Shire Council staged a dinner, and then a public meeting at the Tumut R.S.L. where he was presented with an oil painting of Gadara Gums, a work of Lyle Balser.

At his old school, St. Pat's of Goulburn, a new school addition was opened at its centenary celebrations this year and it was appropriately named "The W.F. Sheahan Block" — and generations to come will know him thereby.

DUAL HONOURS

This year A. Jack Chown was made a Senior Member of Tattersall's Club. Last year Jack was made a Life Member of the Australian Golf Club.

The Australian Golf Club, which has the distinction of being Australia's oldest Golf Club, having been formed in 1882, honoured Jack with Life Membership in recognition of his services to the Club.

Jack, in those days a prominent amateur golfer, joined the Australian in 1931, since which time he has been most active in his sport and participation in club affairs.

This is exemplified by his presentation to the A.G.C. of a billiards table for use by members, a most suitable recognition of his liking of the game.

In 1962 Jack was elected as Vice President of the A.G.C.

He was a great advocate of supporting the professional golfers in their desire for security.

In concert with the late Sir Leslie Herron, they founded a most successful superannuation scheme for Club Professionals.

Jack has been active in the establishment of a sportsman's clinic at the Lewisham Hospital, and has for many years been renowned for his participation in charitable causes.

And now having been dubbed with those rare honours we warn Tattersall's devotees of the green baize tables to be careful of Jack's continued enthusiasm.

For the benefit of Tattersall's Club members . . . . .

FRIEND IN NEED — IN DEED

We like this story as told by "Ink Spots" in the St. George District News:—

"Sir Frank Packer, newspaper owner and great Australian, was a very good friend. He was a very prominent sportsman and participated in a wide field of activities.

I first met him on the polo ground when he played for Town and Country, the owners of the Kyeemagh fields.

He once told me that if I needed any help to come and see him.

During the war he was appointed head of the Civil Construction Corp.

A friend of mine got called up for service in the Corp.

My pal was almost blind and distressed at the thought of work with the organisation, and he appealed for me to escort him to town to see what could be done.

I did this, and as I walked into the hall, with hundreds of people milling around, Major Frank Packer spotted me, came over and shook hands, and wanted to know what I was doing there.

I introduced him to my blind friend and told him of his plight. He immediately took my mate and his papers to the doctor and within half an hour he was medically examined and exempt.

I never saw a happier man than my friend, and thanks to the late Sir Frank Packer."

100s AND 1000s

Out in the Far West, say Bourke, Brewarrina, and up to Cunnamulla, the name of Wally Wason is well known and respected.

He was born at Cobbora, near Dunedoo, and his future was rounded by districts carrying names as original Australianise as one can gather.

He was a jackeroo for six years at Murrawonbie.

As head stockman he was on the border of Barclay Downs, 4,000 sq. miles and Lake Nash 6,000 sq. miles, the former carried 40,000 head of cattle and there were 60,000 at the latter.

Wally's mustering camp had 22 abo boys and one white cook.

After the war, Wally came back to take over Black Bank, a property of 35,000 acres, carrying both sheep and cattle.

He says the country is now so lush that he has difficulty in locating sheep in the long grass.

His closest neighbour is 14 miles away whilst his nearest town is Brewarrina, just the bare 108 miles.

Near neighbours from Tattersall's are Bill and John Loughnam whilst his close Club friend is Bill Kirwan.

RAGAMUFFIN AND SYD PART

Syd Fischer has at last parted from his beloved yacht Ragamuffin, but only after six months of hard thinking.

Syd said: "I don't like doing it but I am building a new boat and I couldn't maintain the two of them.

"Ragamuffin is in impeccable condition and I want to set her in the hands of someone who would keep her that way.

"I could not race her as well as sailing the new one which Ian Perdriau is building for me."

But Syd is keeping the name Ragamuffin for his new yacht and of course he will retain her famous sail number, 70.

Ragamuffin is being sold to a Victorian yachtsman who sails with his four sons.

Although modern technology has caught up with Rags — as she is more affectionately known — after an illustrious career, she is certainly in tip-top condition.

WALKING A PENGUIN DOWN PITT STREET

Ian and Linda Foulsham proudly announce a son and heir, Benjamin Wallace, ensuring the perpetuation of the Foulsham name so redolent of turfdom.

His proud dad, Bill, celebrated with Ian and as they joined Dr. Eb. McMahon and Dr. John McGirr they had a story which we would like to tell.

A chap strolled down Martin Plaza and noticed a stray penguin.

He had a bit of string in his pocket and took charge of the penguin and marched it down to Pitt Street where he met a policeman.

He asked the man in blue what to do and where to go.

Said the policeman "Take it to the Zoo".

"Thanks very much, I will," said the kind character.

Next day at the same time came down Martin Plaza the same identity leading the penguin.

To complete the coincidence along came the same policeman.

"Say," said the policeman, "aren't you the same chap I met yesterday and told you to take the penguin to the Zoo?"

"Yes," was the ready reply, "thanks to you we did and enjoyed it very much.

"Today we are going to the pictures."

ON 10 PER CENT

Rev. Father L.V. Tosi, AJC Chaplin and Tattersall's member was in his usual place in the Randwick stand.

Seated with him were Dr. John McGirr, Ted Forrest, Bill Graf and Phil Roach.

The lay members combined a small investment and entrusted the ticket getting to the cleric.

"What are you on, Father?" piped a voice sounding very much like Ted Peoples.

Immediately came the rejoinder, "10% discount".

And then Phil Roach came out with his caustic wit "And he would not be making this investment on our behalf if he did not believe it to be true value".

Right hand was the left hand

Around the billiard tables on the Second Floor they met.

Ken McDonald, great Snooker player, looked bleakly at Arthur O'Connor (the Olympic Games diver that was), both sizing each other up as a preliminary to a game.

Snooker can be played the hard way on the Second Floor, but never on a Sunday or a Wednesday.

And then came the challenge of Ken to play Arthur for an Opera ticket.

"No," said Arthur, "you're much too good".

Replied Ken "Well young man, I'll play you left handed".

"That'll do me," said Arthur, slyly smiling because he is no mean cueist himself.

Arthur broke them up, no score.

So Ken had second shot, left handed, and knocked up 22.

"I'm glad I'm only playing you left hand," said Arthur wryly.

"That's all right," said Ken, "I AM LEFT HANDED".

TIMELY REMINDER FROM NORM ROGERS

It is generally accepted that Norm Rogers has a self-elected yearly job of getting the numbers together for a quorum to ensure the commencement of Tattersall's often sparsely attended annual meetings.

On the night of this year's Annual meeting when we asked Commissioner for N.S.W. in Japan, Rex Breden, "How's things?", he facetiously remarked that he would not have been present except for Norm's cable to Tokyo reminding him to "turn up — or else".

SOL IN ACTION

We are pleased to welcome to the ranks of our contributors that very good Tattersall's member Sol Green, who will in future officiate on behalf of our bowlers.

Sol brings to his position a wide knowledge of the game and an enthusiasm which we feel sure will play its part in bettering attendances at the games.

MAN OF THE MONTH

Captain of Waverley cricket team for 25 years

As this Magazine has previously stated, things just happen to sportsmen — over which they have no control. Take the case of member Wendell Bill, international cricketer and sportsman.

In the 1929/30 cricket season, the M.C.C. Team captained by Harold Gilligan (brother of test captain and well-known English commentator, Arthur Gilligan), was on its way to New Zealand.

The tourists suffered injuries to players during matches played in Perth, Adelaide, and Melbourne, with the result that on arrival in Sydney to play N.S.W. they could only field the bare eleven.

Wendell, then aged 20 years, had been named 12th man for the State Team which included such players as Bradman, Kippax, Jackson, McCabe and Fairfax.

N.S.W. having won the toss, batted, and in view of the M.C.C.'s difficulties, it was arranged that Wendell act as 12th man for both teams.

Switched Caps

After an hour in the field one of the M.C.C. bowlers suffered a strain and Wendell came onto the field for the tourists wearing an English cap.

N.S.W. batted all day Friday and up to 5 p.m. Saturday, compiling a huge score with Don Bradman and Alan Kippax leading the run getting with centuries.

When the M.C.C. batted, Oldfield suffered a bruised finger early in the piece and therefore Wendell was sent to field for N.S.W.

The M.C.C. batted all Monday and Tuesday with Frank Woolley making 220 runs and another batsman named Turnbull over 100.

Thus Wendell fielded — for both teams for practically the entire match — which probably is a record.

Wendell says that he enjoyed the experience immensely as this was his baptism into international cricket.

Since the happening, almost 45 years ago, Wendell has played a lot of cricket, for the State, his club Waverley, and overseas in India with the Australian XI in 1935/36.

On the tour of India, first ever by an Australian team, Wendell and his team mates were entertained by the Maharajahs at their sumptuous palaces in various parts of the country.

Broken Jaw

A description of that tour reads like a chapter from the "Arabian Nights". However it was not all "champagne and skittles". Long travel by train was frequently required between matches, sometimes 50 to 60 hours at a time.

He finished the tour with almost 1,000 runs with an average of 50, and a broken jaw.

Wendell also featured in early broadcasting of test cricket being the first commentator to broadcast from England to Australia in the 1934 Test Series between the countries.

Long-range broadcasting was then in its infancy, and Wendell relates that he first sat on a butterbox in an old lavatory structure at Nottingham and talked into a small mike to an Australia which seemed, at the time, as far away as the moon. It was not even possible to know if anyone was listening until a return cable was received advising on reception in this country.

Visitors to Norfolk Island will be interested to know that during his cricket career in 1935, Wendell captained a N.S.W. Association team to pioneer cricket tests between the Islanders and the mainland.

On a tiny picturesque ground the boundary behind the wicket was so close that only two runs were counted.

Wendell was startled when taking the first ball of the innings, the bowler's delivery was so short that it struck the beginning of the half concrete wicket on the edge and bounced back to the bowler. Readers may ask — "What is the umpire's decision on this startling opening? Is it 'no ball', 'wide' or 'dead ball'?"

Incidentally, Wendell scored 199

runs in this innings and had there been any way of knowing how many runs he actually was he would probably have scored a double century.

Captain After 25 Years

Wendell played for his club, Waverley, for 25 years, and captained it when they last won the first grade premiership back in 1944/45.

During the last match to decide the winner, Wendell then in the army, was transferred to Brisbane, en route to Bougainville.

He obtained leave for the final day and journeyed to Sydney, 15 hours by train, only to see the match washed out by rain.

However, as Waverley were leading in the competition, at this stage, they were the winners anyway, and Wendell returned to Brisbane that same night having travelled 1,500 miles and not a ball bowled.

A couple of outstanding events in his cricketing career which Wendell remembers best are — his partnership with Don Bradman in a country match at Blackheath where in the final stages of their innings together they scored 104 runs in 3 overs — of these Bradman scored 101 and Wendell 3.

Another occasion was at the Sydney Cricket Ground against Victoria when Wendell and Don Bradman put on 200 runs in 120 minutes for the fifth wicket.

Close finish in annual Native Son Trophy swim

by SAM BLOCK

Tattersall's Club swimming season ended on July 4th with debonair Vic Zappia the hero of the year, as winner of Bill Kirwan's Native Son Trophy with a score of 181½ points from Russell Debney.

The winner was most consistent all the season and the contest between Zappia and Debney developed into a real battle royal. With four events to be completed Zappia led by two points, but with two races to be decided Debney forged to the front from Zappia with Butchart, Finn and Salier gradually gaining on the leaders. On saddling up for the final event Zappia led by three and a half points, both failed to make the finals whilst Butchart, Finn and Salier won their respective heats, creating the position that if Butchart won his final a dead heat for the trophy would eventuate. When Butchart was beaten out of a place the result of the first three positions was known but the tussle for fourth place was not decided until the last final with Salier gaining the honours from Finn by half a point.

Zappia is in his second season of competition and his success was very well received.

Gordon Salier ended up the 1973-4 season in a blaze of glory when he won the June Point Score with a tally of 31 points from Tony Thompson 30, and Terry Forrest with 27½, which also gained him fourth place in the yearly point score.

Native Son Trophy presented by W.W. Kirwan: V. Zappia 181½ points, R. Debney 178, B. Butchart 177½, G. Salier 174.

Club Championship presented by A.G. Collins: (1) D. Wilson 17.3 pool record, (2) J. Devitt 19.2, (3) B. Mortensen 20.5, (4) M. McCormack 21.0

A. Grade Championship presented by Les Tidmarsh: (1) P. Wakefield 20.9, *(2) R. Heath 21.5, *(2) B. Butchart 21.5 (*dead heat), (4) D. Grice 21.9.

The finalists in the A grade championship, an event restricted to swimmers on a handicap of 22 or over were Peter Wakefield, Nick Heath, Bill Butchart and Doug Grice who was first reserve. Terry Forrest unfortunately could not turn up for the final.

The boys got away to an even start and swam stroke for stroke all the way, Wakefield taking the honours with Heath and Butchart dead heating for second place and Grice a touch further away.

The field for the Club Championship were John Devitt, former World Olympic Australian Champion and Club Champion 1961-1969, Bryan Mortensen, Australian Champion over 880 and 1500 yards, unbeaten Junior Surf Champion, Michael McCormack, captain of Riverview at 15 years of age and member of Eastern Suburbs Union on leaving school, and Dennis Wilson the red headed terror from Dubbo, who was country champion in 1964.

The four finalists hit the water simultaneously with Wilson forging to the front and from the turn then sprinted away winning in the record breaking time of 17.3 seconds with Devitt in second place followed by Mortensen and McCormack in that order.

The judges were Norm Rogers, Max Sernack and Arthur McCamley and timekeepers Jim Comans, David

MAN OF MONTH

Bradman was 100 when Wendell came in to bat — and at stumps he was 200 and Wendell 100.

Since retiring from the sporting scene in 1948, Wendell has been involved in real estate activities for many years and is currently the marketing consultant for a well-known city firm of Estate Agents.

He still keeps up sporting activities, playing golf regularly at the Killara Golf Club, and with Tattersall's, and occasional games of tennis.

Emanuel, Leigh Bowes and yours truly.

Swimmers continued to improve during the month and even in the last race 10 clipped a second off their handicap amongst them being N. Rogers, P. Twigg, K. Finn, T. Forrest, W. Rowe, J. Nicholas, Tony Thompson (2), D. Grice, G. Salier and B. Ross-Jones.

Fastest winning performances were:

B. Mortensen and M. McCormack 20.2, N. Rogers 20.5, P. King 20.6, J. Nicholas 20.9, B. Butchart 21.1, D. Grice 21.5, T. Forrest and G. Salier 20.6.

For a few months we must say farewell to racing until October when the 1974-5 season commences.

Yours truly is off to Honolulu for a few weeks of sunshine (says he hopefully).

Phar Lap was no skinny kangaroo . . .

We are grateful for the kind response from readers to the Sun's article of "The Untold Story of Phar Lap", the first section of which appeared last month.

Equally interesting is this concluding stage — Part II — and when next on the first floor look up at the magnificent painting of Phar Lap given to Tattersall's Club by its part owner David Davis. The painting is by Tattersall's colleague Captain Stuart Reid.

Phar Lap's great year was 1930 when he was a four-year-old. He won a whole stack of major races including the 1930 Melbourne Cup. By this time no one called him a "skinny kangaroo" and more. Instead, experts struggled to find words to express their feelings about this remarkable animal.

The racing authority, Dr. Stewart McKay, said that Phar Lap filled the demands required of a stayer more perfectly than any other horse in the history of racing.

Dr. McKay said: "He has the required bone, thanks to being born in New Zealand where limestone is common, while it is as rare as prosperity in NSW. He has that rare heart that allows him to sprint, an invaluable asset in a race like the Melbourne Cup, because it enables him to take up any position he wishes during the first half-mile. He has a perfect staying heart, combined with the requisite nervous heart, and his muscles are such that his hind legs cause his great body to move forward with the stride of a kangaroo".

Phar Lap ran in three Melbourne Cups, the supreme test for Australian racehorses. He started in 1929, 1930 and 1931.

Four Big Wins

In 1929 as a three-year-old he was a nobody horse until in four consecutive races he won the Rosehill Guineas, the A.J.C. Derby, the A.J.C. Craven Plate and the Victoria Derby.

He was then noticed by punters to the point where they sent him in to the 1929 Melbourne Cup at even money making him the hottest favourite to that time in the Cup's history. Nighmarch won that year with Phar Lap third, three lengths.

Phar Lap made amends by winning the Cup in the following year but before he did he went through some intense drama.

There were rumours that gangsters in Melbourne intended to shoot the horse to prevent him running, and special precautions were taken to protect him. At 6 a.m. on Saturday, November 1930, Phar Lap, having completed track work at Caulfield, was being led out the gate when a man in a speeding car opened fire on him with a shotgun. Fortunately the gunman missed, and Phar Lap, ever calm, went on to win the 1930 Cup easily by three lengths from Second Wind with Shadow King third.

Phar Lap had come a long way since he had stumbled down the gangplank suffering from mange and an abscess in his mouth and he went on a long way further in his great career.

With him went his trainer Harry Telford and jockey Jim Pike who in two years rode the big horse 30 times for 27 wins and two seconds.

There once wasn't a pub in Australia which didn't have a picture on the bar room wall showing Jimmy Pike wearing red jacket, black and white hooped sleeves and red cap riding Phar Lap at the gallop.

On November 3rd, 1931, Phar Lap had his last run in Australia. (He was unplaced in the Melbourne Cup carrying 10.10).

Harry Telford's lease ran out and David J. Davis took his horse off on an American campaign. The Agua Caliente Handicap of 1½ miles run in Mexico on March 20th, 1921 was the opening shot.

There were 11 horses in that race and each was a star performer. Cabezo, who was later to win the American Derby, was carrying only 6st 4lb. Phar Lap had to lump 9st 4lbs.

Course Record

Early in the race the lightweights got 10 lengths ahead of Phar Lap who was running last. At the six furlongs the Australian horse caught fire. It took him only two furlongs to get from last to first and he ran away to win in a new course record time of 2.24-5.

American racing fans called Phar Lap "The Anzac Antelope," "The Red Terror of the Antipodes," and "The Wizard from Down Under".

Big plans were being made for future campaigning when the most shocking tragedy in Australian and American racing history took place.

At 5 a.m. on 5th April, 1932, William Nielsen, the veterinary surgeon, who had gone to America with Phar Lap's team, was asleep in his room above Phar Lap's stall in the Perry stables at Menlo Park, California, USA. Suddenly he was roused by Tommy Woodcock, who had gone with the horse to America as trainer, Telford being unable to make the trip. Woodcock said the horse was down in his stable and in great pain.

Nielsen found the horse in agony. The cause wasn't colic and the vet suspected poison. He prepared a drench and tried other measures trying to break down the pain. He was finally forced to use morphia. But nothing prevailed. Around midday, according to Nielsen, Phar Lap "whinnied, tried to rise, haemorrhaged violently, and died at once."

Poisoned

William Nielsen and Dr. Caesar Masoero, an American vet, performed a post mortem. They found the intestines were red and raw with the lining of the stomach perforated. Their conclusion was that the horse had been poisoned.

Nielsen investigated and always claimed that Phar Lap had died from a mixture of arsenate of lead and caustic soda he swallowed with his food.

An American tree surgeon had been spraying trees in the area against caterpillars with that deadly mixture using a high pressure pump while a strong wind was blowing. The poison mixture, according to Nielsen, was found in the straw in Phar Lap's stable, in the hay and oats that had been imported from New Zealand for him, in his wheat, bran and in the grass of the paddock, where he had grazed.

Not much poison was found in the horse's body. Nielsen insisted that was because he had excreted most of it before he died.

All Australia mourned the passing of the wonder horse and no man was sadder than the great jockey Jim Pike, who had never seemed to enjoy riding after Phar Lap had left Australia.

Pike used to say: "Phar Lap won the races, not me. He was always in the lead or near the lead. Never let anyone take anything from the horse. He was a great one — the greatest."

And now as we look up to Phar Lap's painting on the first floor we pay tribute and we are a lot wiser.

HANDBALL CLUB INTRODUCES NEW KNOCK-OUT

BY ARTHUR McCAMLEY

Our energetic Secretary Norman Rogers has come up with a grand suggestion to eliminate the long drawn out competitions, which, in the past, have taken as long as twelve months to complete.

The new idea is for the Handball Club to arrange a series of "Knock Out" competitions which will commence and finish on the same day. Each event, which will be named by the donor of the prizes, will be notified to the member on the notice board on the Third Floor. Entireties will be invited and all that a member wishing to compete has to do is to write his name on the notice board and he is in.

If it is a doubles "Knock Out" event then members are to arrange their own partners and put the team's name on the board, the same as for a single's competition.

I feel that this will prove popular and create more enthusiasm amongst members, rather than those long drawn out competitions where almost all the competitors had an excuse why they could not play.

It is anticipated that we shall run about four of these competitions each twelve months, and, at the finish of each of these events, have a get together in one of the Club's entertainment rooms. Everything will be arranged and prizes will be presented. We can have a convivial evening with suitable liquid refreshments, a smorgasbord and "Bob's your Uncle".

During the year, we can still continue the Club's Championship and the grade championships in the usual manner, and, perhaps, one or two of the major events, such as the "Good Idea" trophy and the "Winooka" trophy.

Well we are off to a good start. The first "Knock Out" was named THE "RAMAZAN" TROPHY.

The prizes were donated by Arthur McCamley who was the proud owner of that top grade sprinter, "Ramazan" in the late 50's.

It was a doubles competition and twelve teams competed. The finalists were: Ken Francis and Charles Robinson v Bruce Upcroft and John McGuire.

The result was a commanding victory for Ken and Charles who won by 31 - 12 although the losers tried very hard they found the winners to be in superb condition and as a result they could not find the winning shots when required. Congratulations to Ken and Charles and commiserations to Bruce and John.

One side effect of the victory was that "Big Brother" the handicapper was watching, and as a result Ken Francis has had his handicap reduced from +22 to +15.

After the final we all gathered in the Sportsman's Room for our get together, a few friendly drinks and a bite to eat from the smorgasbord arranged in his usual inimitable style by Danny, the Club's Chef. He was ably assisted by his attractive assistant, Irene.

Cricketers carry off Golf Club's fourball

by Phil Tresidder

Two visitors - Test cricketers at that, carried off Tattersall's Golf Club's fourball event at the last outing at Pymble.

Doug Walters and Brian Taber produced a partnership that registered 45 points and easily cleaned up the field.

Brian (Pennant Hills) played off 20 handicap, Doug (Muirfield) off 22 and they put together their big total despite four one-point holes! Look out M.C.C.

Jack Hansor and his partner John Walker were three points away in second place, on count-back from Geoff Eastment and Len Tosh.

The weather was ideal and the course in good condition for one of Tattersall's most enjoyable days of the year with an 83 strong field teeing off.

Dave Walker and Bob Ritchie managed 41 points together with Peter Tresidder and Bevan Harris in the fourball event but overall Pymble had the better of the Tattersall's golfers.

ROOSTERS CROW, COOGEE TROUNCE BONDI ICEBERGS

Tattersall's Club members dominated the contest for the Giles-Burg trophy presented by Peter Ashby.

Coogee defeated Bondi Icebergs 4-1, Bill Sellen being the only Iceberg to win.

Following the games and in brilliant sunshine on the deck of Bondi Baths, a great barbecue and trimmings were enjoyed.

Bondi President Bill Sellen welcomed Frank Roberts, captain of Coogee, and Reg Chappell, Bondi captain handed over the trophy to Wally Grey, Coogee captain.

RESULTS

Ron Rogers (C) 31, Reg Chappell, 20.
Michael O'Dea (C) 31, Ray Hopkins, 26.
Charlie Robinson (C) 31, Kevin Smith, 29.
Bill Sellen (B.I.) 31, Ken Francis, 21.
Jim Campbell (C) 31, Frank Caldwell, 15.

Parramatta professional, took out the individual trophy with a neat 38 point total off his one handicap. He also was the sweepstake winner.

Dick Scott was runner-up in the individual with 36 points - a highly creditable effort after a daunting start in which he wrapped a four-iron around a tree on the second hole and played a club short after that.

John Barras, Bill Tunbridge and John Claremont were next on 34 points while the visitor's trophy went to Bob Gale with 36 points on a count back from Bevan Harris.

FOURBALL

Winners: Brian Taber 20/18, 45 points, Doug Walters 22/19.

Visitors Single: Bob Gale 36 points on count back from Bevan Harris, W. Mead 34, Tom Hensley 33.

Bowls office bearers re-elected

BY SOL GREEN

There was a roll up of 40 members to our Annual meeting. Office bearers were re-elected.

The only change was that of Publicity Officer which honour has been conferred on me.

Dr. Fuzz Porter gave a mild rebuke to members and emphasised the necessity of more attending each week.

As few as 15 members sometimes attended and emphasis was made that each "regular" should bring a friend or fellow bowler to future games.

In the Australian Bowling Carnival to be held in Sydney next year, City Tattersall's will be the hosts and an addition to the ranks will be Tasmania.

Only two matches in the Championship Singles were played during the month. Close contests were expected in each, but one ended in anything but a close finish — which only goes to once more exemplify the glorious uncertainty of bowls.

Thrilling Game

The first between Jack McKell and Phil Goldman turned out to be a real "cliff hanger". After completion of the 10th end there was nothing to choose between the two as the board read 8 — 8.

Five ends later Phil had gone ahead 15 — 10, and after the 18th end had established a nice lead of 20 — 10. A four to his opponent on the 20th end saw this lead reduced to 20 — 15.

After the next three ends Phil had again increased his lead with the board reading 25 — 15. Jack not to be outdone then came to light with two best bowls after the 28th end had tied the score 25 — 25.

Once again, it was Phil's turn and three ends later after the 31st end he had what appeared to be a winning lead of 30 — 25 only to see Jack get up on the post and win 31 — 30, with three shots on each of the last 2 ends — a great game.

The second game, which most thought would be close, proved to be just the opposite. This was between Paul Madden and Bill Hetherington. Paul, who was in good form, took the lead from the word go and never surrendered it. Whenever Bill looked like getting back into the game, and this was quite often, his opponent with his accurate firm shot removed the shot bowl and won the end. A game which began in brilliant sunshine at Double Bay, finished 34 ends later in the rain with Bill who had a disappointing game going down 31 — 17.

Congratulations to the two winners and the usual commiserations to the vanquished.

In the next round the above two winners meet and opinions as to who will win this one must be divided.

Phone Numbers

In the list of phone numbers forwarded to members it should be noted that the "business phone" should be transposed to read "home phone" and vice versa.

Mousally shows "a touch of class"

The evergreen George Mousally showed that touch of class when he gave a brilliant exhibition in his first heat. Why George has never taken out one of these tourneys remains a puzzle to me. Surely he is not going to wait much longer.

Another of the well fancied players, Roy Bryden, was defeated by Clive Milliken in a close finish. Roy quickly caught up and passed his opponent's score and looked an easy winner, but the inevitable uncertainty in snooker play again prevailed as his opponent produced many excellent shots to gain a meritorious win.

Johnny Lavigne, just back from a trip overseas, was in excellent form and won his match against Os Bates with plenty to spare. John has ability and should stand a great chance in this tourney.

More heats will need to be played before predictions can be made about the finals.

Many of our players are showing vast improvement since last year's tournament.

Watching the snooker tourney games, I do think there is far too much emphasis put on safety play, especially by players on middle and long handicaps. They seem to concentrate more on this method than they do on potting the balls, and, after all, potting brings the rewards. Their long handicaps do not warrant that type of play and they are only expected to be proficient to pot those balls within their capabilities.
